

Successful as a Dad

Jon Gordon
Positive Tip

<https://myemail.constantcontact.com/Positive-Tip--My-Biggest-Mistakes-as-a-Dad.html?soid=1011079791951&aid=A0zqsuzj8G4>

I believe the key is less drive and more love. More encouragement and less intensity. More fun and less stress. Sure there is a time to push and challenge your children but unconditional love and connection are so much more important.

I believe the greatest gifts a Dad can give his children are:

- Love them
- Believe in them
- Guide them
- Spend time with them
- Listen to them
- Pray for them

No one is perfect. We will all make mistakes as parents. But I've found that unconditional love has a way of covering your mistakes. When your children know you love them and they feel your love they'll forgive you.